

12 Exciting Months on Campus!

Benny R

This series was created for my final assignment in the photography unit I'm doing at uni. It's also the last assignment of my degree! With that in mind I decided to focus on my experiences living in student accommodation over the past 12 months.

I've aimed to capture my experiences and emotions, portraying a journey of isolation, routine, and personal growth within the confined spaces of my living environment.

I wanted to convey the blandness and monotony of living in a building where strangers coexist, all working towards similar goals, yet totally disconnected from one another.

Living in student accommodation has hurt my soul.

But it has also provided me with secure housing...
